1 Lightning College Hockey Tournament - Champions (Tampa, Fla.)
 2 Hockey East Quarterfinals

Kevin Jarman's heroics in 2006-07 gave UMass its first-ever NCAA Tournament win - 1-0 in OT over Clarkson.

In 2007-08, UMass beat No. 6 Notre Dame and No. 4 Colorado College to win the Lightning College Hockey Classic.

All-AMERICANS

Jon Quick—2007

Jon Quick, UMass Hockey's MVP for the 2006-07 season, was named a second-team All-America selection after backstopping UMass to its most successful season ever. RBK Hockey, the sponsor of the Division I NCAA All-American program, allows for two teams in the East and the West, with the award winners being chosen by the American Hockey Coaches Association (ACHA). The Minutemen sophomore netminder paved the way to the NCAA's and the first-ever NCAA victory for the program. Quick shattered all single-season goaltending records while earning nearly five times the number of wins he had as a rookie. He allowed two or fewer goals in 23 of 37 games played with 17 30+ save performances. All three of his career shutouts came this season, while earning 10 wins against ranked opponents. He also helped UMass to season series wins over three of the other top-five Hockey East teams. Quick was a Hockey East second team All-Star and signed a three-year deal with the Los Angeles Kings at the conclusion of the season, forgoing his final two seasons of collegiate eligibility.

Thomas Pöck—2004

No one single player had as much of an impact on UMass' fortunes as Thomas Pöck did. The Klagenfurt, Austria, native came to UMass as a highly-regarded forward and left as the most decorated defenseman in school history. Pöck rewrote the record books, setting every defenseman scoring record to date, while accomplishing these feats in only two years. Over the past two years, Pöck led the Minutemen to a 38-29-7 record, two appearances at the FleetCenter and a big increase at the Mullins Center turnstiles. He was UMass' first-ever Hobey Baker finalist and had one of the finest seasons for a defenseman in Hockey East history, scoring 41 points (16 g, 25 a) and becoming the seventh player in school history to reach 100 career points. He was named insidecollegehockey.com's National Defenseman of the Year and earned spots on the USCHO.com and JOFA All-America first-team lists. Three days after the season ended, Pöck signed a free-agent contract with the New York Rangers and scored a goal in his first game, the same day he signed the contract. Pöck finished the NHL season scoring four points (2 g, 2 a) in only six games of action. Shortly after the NHL season, Pöck helped Team Austria to its best finish in the World Championships ever.

P.J. Flaherty—1972

P.J. Flaherty was the key defensive component to UMass' only championship won in hockey—the 1972 ECAC Division II Championship. Flaherty led the Minutemen to a 19-7-0 mark, including the best start in school history at 9-1-0. Flaherty still ranks first in career wins with 38 and his 3.05 career GAA is second only to Gabe Winer's current 2.83 GAA. He has also posted two of the top-five single-season GAA marks (2.80 in 1971-72 is 2nd; 2.90 in 1970-71 is 4th). By no means an orthodox goalie, Flaherty loved to roam the ice and picked up two assists on the season. In 2007, Flaherty was inducted into the UMass Hall of Fame.

Pat Keenan—1972

What Flaherty was to the 1972 defense, Pat Keenan was to the 1972 offense. The Weston, Ontario, native's standards still stand today, and are likely to stand for quite some time. He is UMass' all-time leader in points (180) and goals (105) and he holds the top three single-season scoring performances (65 in 1972-73, 59 in 1971-72 and 56 in 1970-71). For his career he averaged a remarkable 2.73 points per game. He also holds single-game records for points (9) and goals (7). Keenan scored all the points despite having a six-game scoring drought at the end of the 71-72 season, meaning he scored all 59 points in a 19-game span during the year. He is one of five UMass hockey personnel in the UMass Athletics Hall of Fame.

1972-73	20	43	22	65
CAREER	66	105	75	180

Brian Sullivan—1972

Brian Sullivan may not have had the stats of Keenan and Flaherty, but was a vital cog in the UMass defense during its championship season. A team captain, Sullivan scored only 44 career points, including 16 in his All-American year of 1971-72, but helped the Minutemen to a 43-21-1 mark in his three years in Amherst (the best three-year stretch in school history; winning percentage of .669). He finished his career by playing in 64 of 65 games, scoring 12 goals and 32 assists. Sullivan became the first "modern-day" player in school history to turn pro.

P.J. Flaherty was one of three All-American's from the 1972 ECAC Championship Team.
